

Country (and track) Pride

Every rider has a favorite track, but in the case of Leon Haslam he has two; Silverstone and Donington (in no particular order).

To commemorate his appreciation for his two home tracks, Haslam commissioned famed designer Aldo Drudi to create a new Special edition replica design that pays proper tribute to the two historic race courses. In the new HASLAM TRACK the layout of both race courses are depicted in exacting detail, each occupying one side of the helmet with sections and turns called out along the route. A stylized Union Jack completes the design up front and up over the top. A proper British flag and checkers flag adorn the very back of the helmet.

The new Haslam Track, being a race track inspired design, or course rests comfortably on the Corsair-V. Find out more about the new Haslam Track and the Corsair-V.....
