VECTOR-2
LOOP

>> VECTOR-2 Loop

We continue to get requests to come up with new and different graphic designs, and over the past few years have expanded our design pool to included designs from around the world. Some are subtle, some are truly out there and some do a little of everything in between. The new Loop design is one of those designs that at first looked to be just another possible option in a long list of designs, but reaction from dealers and consumers who got a sneak peek of the Loop design moved it up the list quickly and rig into the 2013 line. An interesting combination of shapes, lines and the illusion of depth make the Loop demand a second look. If you're looking for something different than the usual linear graphic with standard colors, then the Loop may just be the design for you.
